Association Membership Criteria:

New members should obtain a quality mark within a year that they sign in. New members should have a license of the Ministry of Safety & Justice. You can only obtain a license if the owner/director of the investigative company is of proven good character.

Comments on Association Activities, if any:

There is a continuation of a project on going concerning public-private cooperation between private investigative companies (members of the Nederlandse Veiligheidsbranche) the Dutch police and the Justice department to see how public (police) and private investigative companies can establish better ways to work together so that investigative reports concerning criminal investigations can be used "easier" in a criminal court.

Total No. of Members:

18 companies who cover approx 50% of the annual turnover in the private investigative industry
